On the question of how the government proposes to compensate 50 thousand odd Government Employees the loss of one year pay revision arrears, the Minister-in-Charge replied that the question of loss due to unilateral decision does not arise as it is the prerogative of any government to accept the recommendation of the independent Commissions/Committees in the overall interest of the state. He said it must be understood that, unlike in cases of many other states, employees pay is not going to be effected in the long run as they will get the benefits of raised pay from 01.01.2016 although arrears would only be payable from 01.01.2017.
